GO MAKE DISCIPLES TIP OF THE MONTH

How often do we as human beings choose to give up something in order to better ourselves physically and or mentally? My guess is pretty regular or as often as every day. I ask you how often do you give up something for your spirituality? Often noise, activity, material possessions and satisfaction of our cravings take up all of our existential space leaving little room for our Lord to speak, live, and act within us. In this sense, mortification is a subtraction not in addition. We empty ourselves out so Christ can fill us. In our primary vocation of the pursuit of holiness we should have regular mortification. We all have many opportunities every day to "take up our cross" with all of our life's little inconveniences and annoyances that choose us. We can take them with a cheerful heart and a smiling face. I ask you to also include an active mortification at least once a week on Fridays. Most traditionally abstaining from meat. Whatever you choose offer it up to God intentionally. The more we freely deny ourselves even in legitimate pleasures and comforts in the littlest things the easier it will be to resist a moment of temptation in the bigger things.
